Domestic Postage.

FIRST CLASS.—Letters and all written matter, whether sealed or unsealed, and all other matter sealed, nailed, sewed, tied, or fastened in any manner, so that it cannot be easily examined, two cents per ounce or fraction thereof. A "Special Delivery" ten-cent stamp, when attached to a letter in addition to the lawful postage, shall entitle the letter to immediate delivery at, or within one mile of, any post-office. Postal cards, one cent each; with paid reply, two cents each.

SECOND CLASS.—All regular newspapers, magazines, and other periodicals issued at intervals not exceeding three months; the postage is one cent for each four ounces, payable by postage stamps.

THIRD CLASS.—Embraces printed books, pamphlets, circulars, engravings, lithographs, proof-sheets and manuscript accompanying the same, and all matter of the same general character, and not having the character of personal correspondence. Circulars produced by hektograph or similar process, or by electric pen, are rated as third class. The limit of weight for mail matter of the third class is four pounds, except in the case of single books exceeding that weight. The rate of postage on mail matter of the third class is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

FOURTH CLASS.—All mailable matter not included in the three preceding classes, which is so prepared for mailing as to be easily taken from the wrapper and examined. Rate, one cent per ounce or fraction thereof, except seeds, roots, cuttings, bulbs, plants and scions, which are 1 cent per two ounces. Limit of weight, 4 lbs. Full prepayment compulsory. Liquids, and other like injurious matter, not admitted, except under conditions which may be learned at any post-office.

Register all valuable letters and packages. Registry fee, eight cents, which, with the postage, must be fully prepaid.

FEES CHARGED FOR MONEY-ORDERS.—For Money Orders in denominations of $100 or less, the following fees are charged: For Orders for sums not exceeding $2.50, 3 cents; $2.50 to $5, 5 cents; $5 to $10, 8 cents; $10 to $20, 10 cents; $20 to $30, 12 cents; $30 to $40, 15 cents; $40 to $50, 18 cents; $50 to $60, 20 cents; $60 to $75, 25 cents; $75 to $100, 30 cents.

Foreign Postage.

To all Foreign Countries (except Canada and Mexico):

On Letters, five cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof—prepayment optional. Double rates are collected on delivery of unpaid or short-paid letters.

On newspapers, books, pamphlets, photographs, sheet music, maps, engravings, and similar printed matter, one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. Limit, 4 lbs. 6 ozs.

TO CANADA (including Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Manitoba, and Prince Edward Island): LETTERS, two cents for each ounce or fraction thereof; Books, Circulars, and similar printed matter, one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof; SECOND CLASS MATTER same as in the United States; SAMPLES, one cent per two ounces; MERCHANDISE, one cent per ounce. Packages must not exceed 4 lbs. in weight—prepayment compulsory. No sealed packages other than letters in their usual and ordinary form may be sent by mail to Canada.

TO MEXICO: Letters, Postal Cards, and printed matter, same rates as in the United States. SAMPLES, one cent per two ounces; MERCHANDISE other than Samples can only be sent by Parcel Post. No sealed packages other than letters in their usual and ordinary form may be sent by mail to Mexico.

To PHILIPPINES, GUAM and PORTO RICO, same rates as in the United States.

LIMITS OF SIZE AND WEIGHT: Packages of samples of merchandise to all countries must not exceed 12 ozs., nor measure more than 12 inches in length, 8 in breadth, and 4 in depth; and packages of printed matter must not exceed 4 lbs. 6 ozs.

Rules for Computing Interest.

The following will be found to be excellent rules for finding the interest on any principal for any number of days. When the principal contains cents, point off four places from the right of the result to express the interest in dollars and cents. When the principal contains dollars only, point off two places.

Four per Cent.— Multiply the principal by the number of days to run, and divide by 90.

Five per Cent.— Multiply by number of days, and divide by 72.

Six per Cent.— Multiply by number of days, and divide by 60.

Seven per Cent.— Multiply by number of days, and divide by 52.

Eight per Cent.— Multiply by number of days, and divide by 45.

Nine per Cent.— Multiply by number of days, and divide by 40.

Ten per Cent. — Multiply by number of days, and divide by 36.

Twelve per Cent.— Multiply by number of days, and divide by 30.

Fifteen per Cent.— Multiply by number of days, and divide by 24.

Eighteen per Cent. — Multiply by number of days, and divide by 20.

Twenty per Cent.— Multiply by number of days, and divide by 18.

Twenty-four per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 15.

The Metric System.

The Metric System of Weights and Measures has been legalized by act of Congress, July 18, 1896.

METRIC WEIGHTS.—10 milligrams make 1 centigram, 10 centigrams 1 decigram, 10 decigrams 1 gram, 10 grams 1 dekagram, 10 dekagrams 1 hektogram, 10 hektograms 1 kilogram, 1,000 kilograms 1 metric ton.

METRIC MEASURES.—(One milliliter equals cubic centimeter.) 10 milliliters make 1 centiliter, 10 centiliters 1 deciliter, 10 deciliters 1 liter, 10 liters 1 dekaliter, 10 dekaliters 1 hektoliter, 10 hektoliters 1 kiloliter.

METRIC LENGTHS.—10 millimeters make 1 centimeter, 10 centimeters 1 decimeter, 10 decimeters 1 meter, 10 meters 1 dekameter, 10 dekameters 1 hektometer, 10 hektometers 1 kilometer.

APPROXIMATE EQUIVALENTS.

A meter is about a yard; a kilo is about 2 pounds; a liter is about a quart; a centimeter is about ⅓ inch; a metric ton is about same as an ordinary ton; a kilometer is about ⅝ mile; a cubic centimeter is about a thimbleful. A nickel five-cent piece of our coinage is a handy key to metric measures and weights. It is two centimeters in diameter and weighs five grams.

PRECISE EQUIVALENTS.

1 acre equals .4047 hectar; 1 bushel, 35.24 liters; 1 centimeter .3937 inch; 1 cubic centimeter, .0610 cubic inch; 1 cubic foot, .0283 cubic meter; 1 cubic inch, 16.39 cubic cent.; 1 cubic meter, 35.31 cubic feet; 1 cubic meter, 1.308 cubic yards; 1 cubic yard, .7645 cubic meter; 1 foot, 30.48 centimeters; 1 gallon, 3.785 liters; 1 grain, .0648 gram; 1 gram, 15.43 grains; 1 hectar, 2.471 acres; 1 inch, 25.40 millimeters; 1 kilogram, 2.05 pounds; 1 kilometer, .6214 mile; 1 liter, .9081 quart (dry); 1 liter, 1.057 quart (liquid); 1 meter, 3.281 feet; 1 mile, 1.609 kilometers; 1 millimeter, .0394 inch; 1 ounce (avd.), 28.35 grams; 1 ounce (Troy), 31.10 grams; 1 peck, 8.809 liters; 1 pint, .4732 liter; 1 pound, .4536 kilogram; 1 quart (dry), 1.101 liters; 1 quart (liquid), .9464 liter; 1 sq. centimeter, .1550 sq. inch; 1 sq. foot, .0927 sq. meter; 1 sq. inch, 6.452 sq. cent.; 1 sq. meter, 1.196 sq. yards; 1 sq. meter, 10.76 sq. feet; 1 sq. yard, .8361 sq. meter; 1 ton (2,000 lbs.), .9072 metric ton; 1 ton (2,240 lbs.), 1.017 metric ton; 1 ton (metric), 1.102 ton (2000 lbs.); 1 ton (metric), 9.842 ton (2,240 lbs.); 1 yard, .9144 meter.

Explanation of the Currencies of the various Countries.

AUSTRIA AND RUSSIA.—The Paper Currencies are continually subject to important fluctuations.

In FRANCE, BELGIUM, SWITZERLAND, AND ITALY, 1 franc = 100 centimes. GERMANY, 1 mark = 100 pfennig. HOLLAND, 1 florin or gulden = 100 cents. NORWAY, SWEDEN, AND DENMARK, 1 kroner = 100 öre. UNITED STATES, 1 dollar = 100 cents. SPAIN, 1 peseta = 100 centavos. AUSTRIA, 1 florin = 100 kreuzer. PORTUGAL, 1 milreis = 1000 reis. GREECE, 1 drachma = 100 leptas. TURKEY, 1 piaster = 40 paras. RUSSIA, 1 rouble = 100 copecks.

Italian notes and silver are not current in France, Belgium, and Switzerland, but the silver of these countries passes current in Italy

Help in Case of Accidents.

DROWNING.— 1. Loosen clothing, if any. 2. Empty lungs of water by laying body on its stomach, and lifting it by the middle so that the head hangs down. Jerk the body a few times. 3. Pull tongue forward, using handkerchief, or pin with string, if necessary. 4. Imitate motion of respiration by alternately compressing and expanding the lower ribs, about twenty times a minute. Alternately raising and lowering the arms from the sides up above the head will stimulate the action of the lungs. Let it be done gently but persistently. 5. Apply warmth and friction to extremities. 6. By holding tongue forward, closing the nostrils, and pressing the "Adam's apple" back (so as to close entrance to stomach), direct inflation may be tried. Take a deep breath and breathe it forcibly into the mouth of patient, compress the chest to expel the air, and repeat the operation. 7. DON'T GIVE UP! People have been saved after HOURS of patient, vigorous effort. 8. When breathing begins, get patient into a warm bed, give WARM drinks, or spirits in teaspoonfuls, fresh air, and quiet.

SUNSTROKE.—There are two important indications for treatment — reduction of temperature and the use of stimulants. The patient should first be removed to a cooler spot if possible, or at least where shade can be secured. The treatment should be begun at once. The clothing about the neck and body must be either loosened or removed. Cold is particularly indicated in cases where there is great heat of the body, and delirium and convulsive movements are present. This means of reducing the temperature may be applied in the shape of cracked ice about the head and spine, or the use of cold water. If the heat of the body is very great, it may be necessary to wrap the patient in sheets wet with cold water. If there is, besides the great heat, evidence of serious depression, stimulants must be used while the cold is being applied.

HÆMORRHAGE.— The usual treatment is rest in the recumbent position; small pieces of ice should be freely swallowed, and the application of ice wrapped in a towel or in an ice-bag, or snow, cold water, etc., over the stomach; hot applications may be applied to the extremities.

FIRE IN A BUILDING.— Crawl on the floor. The clearest air is the lowest in the room. Cover head with woolen wrap, wet if possible. Cut holes for the eyes. Don't get excited.

Help in Case of Accidents.

BURNS AND SCALDS.— Cover with cooking soda and lay wet cloths over it. Whites of eggs and olive oil. Olive oil or linseed oil, plain, or mixed with chalk or whiting. Sweet or olive oil and lime-water. Shock, which is always present in severe burns, requires the administration of stimulants. Pain is more constant and intense in burns than in any other form of injury, and requires sedatives, which should be administered by the medical attendant. Later on the appearances of inflammation and other complications are to be carefully watched for.

SUFFOCATION FROM INHALING ILLUMINATING GAS. — Get into the fresh air as soon as possible and lie down. Keep warm. Take ammonia — twenty drops to a tumbler of water, at frequent intervals; also, two to four drops tincture of nux vomica every hour or two for five or six hours.

TESTS OF DEATH.— Hold mirror to mouth. If living, moisture will gather. Push pin into flesh. If dead, the hole will remain; if alive, it will close up. Place fingers in front of a strong light. If alive, they will appear red; if dead, black or dark.

MAD DOG OR SNAKE-BITE.— Tie cord tight above wound. Suck the wound and cauterize with caustic or white-hot iron at once, or cut out adjoining parts with a sharp knife. Give stimulants, as whisky, brandy, etc.

FIRE IN ONE'S CLOTHING.— Don't run — especially not downstairs or out-of-doors. Roll on carpet, or wrap in woolen rug or blanket. Keep the head down, so as not to inhale flame.

FIRE FROM KEROSENE.— Don't use water, it will spread the flames. Dirt, sand, or flour is the best extinguisher, or smother with woolen rug, table-cloth, or carpet.

CINDERS IN THE EYE.— Roll soft paper up like a lamp lighter, and wet the tip to remove, or use a medicine dropper to draw it out. Rub the other eye.

FAINTING.— Place flat on back; allow fresh air, and sprinkle with water. Place head lower than rest of body.

STINGS OF VENOMOUS INSECTS, ETC.— Apply weak ammonia, oil, salt water, or iodine.

LIGHTNING.— Dash cold water over a person struck.

Poisons and Antidotes.

FIRST.—Send for a physician.

SECOND.—INDUCE VOMITING, by tickling throat with feather or finger. Drink hot water or strong mustard and water. Swallow sweet oil or whites of eggs.

Acids are antidotes for alkalies, and vice versa.

ACIDS, MINERAL —Chalk, magnesia (plaster off wall in emergency), solution carbonate of soda, emollient drinks, fixed oils.

ACID, CARBOLIC.—Any soluble sulphate, such as magnesia.

ACID, HYDROCYANIC.—Fresh air and artificial respiration, with cold effusion. Ammonia by inhalation and intravenously in vein of leg.

ACONITE.—Emetics, stimulants, external and internal; keep up external heat, keep flat on back.

ANTIMONY TART.—Vegetable acids, such as tannic acid, catechu.

ARSENIC.—Freshly precipitated hydrated sesquioxide of iron made by adding magnesia to any iron solution.

ATROPIA.—Same as Belladonna.

BELLADONNA.—Emetics—mustard flour in water; give physostigma or pilocarpine; cold to head.

CANTHARIDES.—Emetics, emollient drinks, opiates by mouth and rectum, large draughts of water to flush kidneys.

CHLORINE WATER.—Albumen, white of egg, milk, flour.

CHLOROFORM.—Fresh air, artificial respiration (inclining head down, pull tongue forward), brandy and ammonia intravenously in leg, the HYPODERMIC injection of 15 m. tincture of digitalis and 1-60 of a grain of atropine.

COLCHICUM.—Emetics, followed by demulcent drinks. If coma be present brandy, ammonia, coffee. Opium in large dose. Keep up external heat.

CONIUM.—Emetics, followed by stimulants external and internal.

CORROSIVE SUBLIMATE.—Albumen, white of egg (4 gr. sublimate require white of one egg), flour, milk. Equal parts of lime water and milk. Emetics, or evacuate stomach by pump.

Poisons and Antidotes.

COPPER SULPH.—Yellow prussiate of potash or soap.

CROTON OIL.—Emetics; wash out stomach, followed by mucilaginous fluids, containing opium.

DIGITALIS.—Recumbent posture after emetics. Emetics and opium; give tincture aconite.

ELATERIUM.—Demulcent drinks, enemeta of opium, and external heat.

HYOSCYAMUS.—Stomach pump, emetics, stimulants external and internal, physostigma and pilocarpine.

ILLUMINATING GAS.—Hypodermic injections of nitroglycerin are recommended by Kloman, of Baltimore.

IODINE.—Emetics and demulcent drinks, starch or flour diffused in water, opium and external heat.

LEAD SALTS.—Any soluble sulphate, either magnesia or soda, succeeded by emetics, and afterwards by opium and milk.

LOBELLA.—Stimulants externally and internally; external heat.

MORPHINE.—Same as opium.

NUX VOMICA.—30 grs. of chloral and 60 grs. of bromide of potash. Nitrite of amyl.

OPIUM.—Atropine hypodermically till respirations number 8 per minute. Stomach pump, stimulants, external and internal, brandy and coffee, cold affusion, ammonia to nostrils, galvanic shocks, compelling to move about, artificial respiration, electric brush. Permanganate of Potash.

OXALIC ACID.—Lime, not potash or soda.

PHOSPHORUS.—Sulphate of copper in emetic dose as chemical antidote. No oils. Emetics and purgatives.

POTASH AND SODA SALTS.—Dilute acetic acid, citric acid, lemon juice, fixed oils, demulcents, vinegar.

SILVER NITRATE.—Solution of common salt and demulcent drinks. Emetics.

STRAMONIUM.—Same as Belladonna.

STRYCHNINE.—Same as Nux Vomica.

TOBACCO.—Emetic, stimulants, external and internal, strychnine, external heat.

ZINC SALTS.—Carbonate of soda, emetics, warm demulcent drinks.

Wea. TUES. JAN. 1, 1901 Ther.

Brilliantly clear with strong N.W. wind. 18 26

Visited our rabbit trap after breakfast: It was sprung but empty. Some animal, probably a mouse, had gnawed the string (a tarred cord) in two, making a clean cut & letting the cover down. Nothing had visited our bait.

To Rose Meadow via Glen Woods in P.M. (2-4) Took several photographs. Saw 2 Chickadees & heard a Kinglet, a Creeper & 2 Red Squirrels

Wea. WEDNESDAY 2 Ther.

Clear with high W. wind 6°

Visited the trap this morning. It was again sprung but empty. Nothing had approached our bait.

In P.M. the Doctor & I put on snow shoes & explored the woods W. of the house penetrating through them to the Brook Beyond. Saw a fresh Partridge track & started a Rabbit. It was dusty, coal gray, white & rather conspicuous running. No birds to-day except Chickadees.

We all went to a party given by the Ignosia Club at Odeon Hall this evening. I danced 2 waltzes.

Bethel

Wea. THUR. JAN. 3, 1901 Ther. 6°

Brilliantly clear. Calm most of P.M. + 24°

To the Glen Woods in P.M. Taking 2 cameras. About half an inch of fine snow fell last night just enough to bring out tracks of small animals to the best advantage. Rabbits had been abroad in unusual numbers. I photographed them of their trails to illustrate the variations in their gait. Have also many tracks of Red Squirrels & a curious trail of unmistakable origin, I think by a Skunk. Saw a flock of St. Christophers near the Glen & heard a Chickadee & Nuthatch.

Wea. FRIDAY 4 Ther. + 10°

Cloudy & glowering with raw air but 20° very little wind.

Visited our rabbit trap after breakfast. It was standing although the Rabbits had been about around it.

In P.M. drove through the village past the mill to the Foggin Road where I bought a tame white rabbit & flew in the shop as a frolicsome joke on Dr. & Dora worked up Paradise Hill & turned into fields on E. side crossing them to brink of E. Slope & getting fine views.

Bethel

Wea. SAT. JAN. 5, 1901 Ther. + 5°

Brilliantly clear with Strong W. wind + 20°

Visited the N. Slope of Paradise Hill to take photographs using the 4 x 5 Roy in the morning and the 5 x 7 Henry Clay in the early afternoon. Later in the afternoon worked nearly to Ross Meadows with the Doctor & George. With the help of an Easter I had brought & pinned on our trap a tame white Rabbit with a pink ribbon tied about its neck & a placard inscribed "A Happy New Year to you, Doctor. P.S. I don't bite" having my watch as clew Mr. brought the trap back to the house & opened it in the back room. The Doctor was completely surprised & laughed immoderately.

Wea. SUNDAY 6 Ther. + 9°

Clear with Strong W. wind. Clouds + 30° gathering in W. at sunset.

In the Glen Woods about from 11.30 to 1.30. going to Ross Meadows. The Rabbits must have been out in great force last night. I found fresh tracks of what looked like a Wild Cats foot prints. Exposed half 4 x 5 plates on trails of Rabbits, Cats, Squirrels & Mice with good results. developing the negatives in P.M.

The woods were unfrequented. Saw 1 or 2 Snowbirds & heard 2 Nuthatches a Chickadee & Crow.

Bethel

Wea.	MON. JAN. 7, 1901	Ther.
		22°
Cloudy, calm, snowing all day but so lightly that scarce two inches fell.		30

At 9.30 walked to rabbit-trap & back. It was just beginning to snow fast & drifted somewhat in the woods.

2a P.M. (3-4) the Doctor & I walked to Glen Brook. It was still snowing a little. The evergreens were delightfully powdered & tufted. Saw only two trails - those of a Squirrel & Partridge. Started one Partridge among dense young spruces. Heard Chickadees & a Nuthatch.

Bethel . .

Wea.	WED. JAN. 9, 1901	Ther.
Fair, sky filled with cirro clouds, sun shining brightly out at short intervals. Wind N.W. Strong in late P.M.		24° 41°

To rabbit trap at 9 a.m. A rabbit had been in it & had eaten the bait off each trap. A lot of birds collected in the birches around. Chickadees, a Kinglet, a Creeper, a Canada Nuthatch & a Blue Jay besides a Junco, Tree Sparrows. The Chickadees were very tame & a large flock came about us & stayed up to 4 o'clock P.M.

2a P.M. took the usual trail through the Glen Woods branching off at the second opening, & struck through the dense woods towards Rose Meadows. Had nearly reached it when one of my snow shoes broke & I had to turn back.

Saw 2 Brown Creepers by Glen & heard a Canada Nuthatch. The snow has now settled to less than a foot in the Glen.

Wea.	TUESDAY 8	Ther.
		18°
Cloudless but hazy. A.M. calm Light S. wind in P.M.		30°

Walked to rabbit trap after Breakfast. Heard Jays, Chickadees & Kinglets. The Doctor & Mrs. Lehning went through the Glen Woods. They saw a number of fresh tracks of Rabbits & one of a Fox.

The Doctor & I went to Paradise Hill in P.M. I took the 4x5 Ray Camera & exposed 10 plates most of them on the north slope of the Hill. Returned across lots, partly through the woods. No Birds seen & heard during this walk. Saw trail of a Fox & several of Mice.

Wea.	THURSDAY 10	Ther.
Cloudy with snow falling steadily from 9 a.m. Started Beat Train but so heavily only an inch or two covered the ground at night fall. There was a slight breath of wind & that from the S. E.		14°

Walked to rabbit trap at 9.30 a.m. The woods were impressively silent & deserted this fine, day snow drifting down through the trees. Wrote all the forenoon at the Cambridge Birds.

To the village at 4 P.M. meeting a few horsemen & sleighs down there 2 Chickadees at the house just the only birds seen to-day.

Bethel.

Wea. FRI. JAN. 11, 1901 Ther.

10°

Cloudy with snow falling fitfully but 23°
"making" little until nightfall when it began in earnest. Theodore & Foster.

Took a short turn after breakfast.
In the afternoon the Doctor & I went as far as 3rd Branch through the Glen Woods

Bethel.

Wea. SUN. JAN. 13, 1901 Ther.

18°

Brilliantly clear with light, intermittent 30°
N.W. wind. Trees everywhere loaded with snow the distant woods & mountains looking almost as white as the fields.
Spent a.m. in Glen Woods with the 4×5 Camera going to the 3rd Brook & exposing 12 plates. Hard snow shoeing except in our trail, the snow dry & fine as flour.
Heard a Blue Jay & saw Chickadees & a Canadian Nuthatch the latter eating suet. Saw no tracks save one of a Rabbit & two of Mice. The Rabbit had floundered through deep snow finding 10 or 12 inches on each jump.
Developed plates in P.M. & resumed the dull job of washing them in alum bath.

Wea. SATURDAY 12 Ther.

17°

Continuous snow storm all day & over into 26° night; at nightfall about a foot of fresh snow had fallen since the beginning of the storm on 10th Took a brisk walk to Rabbit Crop & back after breakfast. At 1.30 P.M. the Doctor & I went nearly to the Glen, taking a camera & exposing 4 plates although the light was poor & the air thick with falling flakes
The pictures came out well. I gave them all 10 seconds with the Bausch & Lomb.
Saw a Canadian Nuthatch eating suet, 6
Chickadees & heard a Creeper. No tracks of any kind.

Wea. MONDAY 14 Ther.

A.M. Brilliantly clear, the mountains at 29° sunrise at first ashes of rose, next rose pink, finally deep rose purple. P.M. hazy. Dead calm all day.
Off with the 5×7 camera & the Glen Woods at 8.30 a.m. going mostly to 3rd Brook, exposing 6 plates, getting back at 10 a.m. The thermometer stood at 10° when I started but the air seemed soft & balmy & the sun unmistakably warm: Jays were screaming & Chickadees whistling pleasantly for 6 minutes or more & we found fresh Rabbit tracks & one or two Mice
& the other signs of mammals and Cock Crows

Bethel.

Wea. TUES. JAN. 15, 1901 Ther. 14°

Snow storm Beginning at 8 a. m. & 30° Continuing into following night. The snow was fine & light & it came thinly only about 3 inches having fallen by dusk. As usual there was almost no wind – just a breath from N E.
The trees were powdered all over afresh.

I chopped a cord in my anklet with a light sleigh on ice from shore yesterday & was so lame to-day that I had to keep quiet. Wrote most of the time finishing a sketch article for the Ark & getting off a Lot of letters. In the afternoon Mr. Sabine went to our traps & found in it a fine Northern Hare which he brought home in the trap &.
skid near house. Much delighted when we let it out into a large box. It is [illegible] white all over save on the head

Wea. WEDNESDAY 16 Ther. 26°

Continued snow-storm lasting to day 34° rain in P. M. & adding but little to the total depth of the snow on the ground which is probably now about 1' 1/2 feet. Much of the snow fell from the trees this P. M.
Spent most of day in house. Worked on Cambridge Book in A. M., in P. M. & evening on a "Description of a new Lizard, Big Brewster & Bangs". Also wrote a Lot of letters
In P. M. walked to Round Brook with Mr. G Saw 2 Canadian Nuthatches feeding there / and a flock of 5 Chickadees (at our log house)

Bethel.

Wea. THUR. JAN. 17, 1901 Ther. 34°

Sunny most of A. M. but with gathering 38° clouds which darkened everything in P. M.
The high temperature settled the snow rapidly.
It was wet & soggy when I went to the Glen Woods on snow shoes in late P. M.
The woods seemed gloomy & deserted. Most of the snow has fallen from the trees in the Spring but there are many heavy spots remaining in sheltered places. The thermometer has obliterated all tracks.
Saw 4 Chickadees on the big home.
Wrote all A. M. Photographed Miss Mueller in her hunting dress in the garden in P. M.

Wea. FRIDAY 18 Ther. 26° 7 A.M.

Clear with temperature falling all day – 4. 9 P.M.
& a gale of wind from the N. W.
Spent A. M. in house working on the Cambridge text (10-12 A. M.) & finishing photographs.
In P. M. went over the Glen Woods trail on snow shoes. The crust bore my weight in the woods almost everywhere but it broke at every step in the open. The snow had been exquisitely sculptured by the wind in the fields
S. of the house. Heard a Crossbill, a Kinglet & Chickadee also on Glen Song. Tracks of Lynx & Hare Road track on Round Hill
this morning. 5 Hares killed & 4 engines wrecked

Bethel.

Wea.	SAT. JAN. 19, 1901	Ther.

Brilliantly clear & bitterly cold with violent N.W. wind		+2

At 9.30 a.m. started for Glen Wood with the Doctor. We went only about 300 yards for the wind chilled us to the bone and forced down the breath back into our lungs. I have never experienced such intense cold before.
In P.M. photographed Miss Alma Gehring & Miss Müller in their home in Chisholm.

Wea.	SUNDAY 20	Ther.
		−16°
Early morning clear; remainder of day cloudy. No wind.		+6°

Starting at 11 a.m. I walked up the wood road to the Glen Hill cross road taking the 4 x 5 Premo & exposing 3 plates. While walking I kept warm easily but soon got chilled if I stopped. Saw four Red Squirrels (the small red northern race), a Kinglet, & a few Sparrows & heard a Creeper & a flock of Chickadees. The Tree Sparrows were in odors & gave tongue.
Spent P.M. stacking Vilx fence with the Doctor.

Bethel.

Wea.	MON. JAN. 21, 1901	Ther.
Cloudy & warmer with a brisk shower of fine rain in the evening.		+3° 40°

Spent A.M. in house, writing. In P.M. M. Gehring and I began cutting out a foot path in his woods at the foot of the orchard. We carried it in about 100 yards working for an hour or more, standing on our snow shoes. The snow was so dry & powdery that whenever we dropped our hatchet it would instantly bury out of sight & have to be groped for.

Wea.	TUESDAY 22	Ther.
Brilliantly clear without a breath of wind.		+4 20

Spent A.M. writing. In P.M. walked on snow shoes across the fields to the E. taking the 4 x 5 Premo camera & exposing 3 plates. Saw the fresh track of a Skunk. Where do they hibernate if not here?
A Blue Jay was flitting about in the orchard this morning & June before last one was seen & heard a ♀ Downy Woodpecker (very fond) there. Bird life is exhausted & the Chickadees are the most in evidence.

Bethel.

Wea. WED. JAN. 23, 1901 Ther.

Brilliantly clear in a. m. Clouds — 10 gathering in P. M. No wind + 26

Spent the forenoon writing. In the latter P. M. (3–4) walked up the wood road about a mile with the Doctor. Heard a Kinglet & a small flock of Chickadees. The snow has been crusted for sometime now and shows no recent tracks.

Bethel

Wea. FRI. JAN. 25, 1901 Ther.

Cloudless in a. m., cloudy in P. M. Almost 25
no wind 38
Starting at 8.30 a. m. in the Doctor's sleigh with Emerson to drive I followed the Gilead Road for about 4 m. out. The morning was fine but the country bears of obviously life. I saw only 2 birds — a flock of Blue Jays in white birch woods. No tracks in the fields save one of a Fox.
Took a camera out but saw nothing to photograph.
In the latter P. M. went to the Doctor's woods on snow shoes & worked out the main path for our home

Wea. THURSDAY 24 Ther.

Cloudy most of a. m. Brilliantly 38 clear in P. M. Not a breath of wind

Writing all the forenoon and up to 4 P. M. when I started for a walk going down past the hotel and ten mile and out along the Taggart Road to the old house near the railway crossing.
I took the 4×5 Premo but was too late for pictures & wrote only one exposure.
The distant light on the distant hills
was exceptionally fine.

Wea. SATURDAY 26 Ther.

Brilliantly clear. Light W. wind. 19 31

Walked to village just after breakfast working a few exposures (mostly "snaps") with the No 2 Bellows. At 3.15 P. M. started for the "Taggart Road" with the 4×5 Premo. Exposed eleven plates in a little over an hour.
The light was exceedingly brilliant & there was absolutely no breeze. Saw a horse flock of Chickadees in white pines and a Blue Jay in the old orchard near the village

Bethel — Portland

Wea. SUN. JAN. 27, 1901 Ther.

Snowing lightly all day about 3 in — 18 falling. Wind N.E. changing to N.W. at — 26 sunset when blue sky & the sun appeared.
Spent a.m. in house writing and developing two plates exposed yesterday.
In P.M. walked up Woodward about ½ mile.
No Birds. Only one track, that of a mouse & perfectly fresh. The evergreens are now powdered again & very delicately the snow emphasizing all the details of twig & branch without covering any of them. Heard a Jay in the orchard this A.M.

The Clerk of the Woods

Wanted: A Building Lot

WHETHER our interest in birds be studious or friendly, it is not necessary for us to be constantly seeing new species. The most familiar will still show us unfamiliar traits. The only thing is to keep an eye on their doings, and to question ourselves as to what is passing in their minds.

Three days ago, hearing from a distance several vesper sparrows singing in a mowing-field, I went a little out of my way to cross it, and presently found myself on a bit of knoll with the birds in tune on all sides. They were the first that I had seen this season, though I had heard the song of one on the 11th. I stood still to watch and listen. There is little bird music that is more to my taste than the vesper sparrow's; and there is none that surpasses it in a certain sweet placidity or in a certain touch of artistic perfection. It is worthy of its maker's name. Nobody need desire a truer vesper service than to sit, after sundown, on a fence between an old pasture and a stretch of grass land, with one or two vesper sparrows (grass finches is another pretty name for them) singing on one side and one or two field sparrows on the other. Serenity, sanctity, peace of heart and soul, all that saints have ever prayed for, yea, the rest and purity of heaven itself, have here found expression.

Well, as I said, I was standing motionless, when I became aware that two of the birds, the two nearest me, were chasing each other about, evidently engaged in some kind of controversy. They kept mostly in the grass, and restricted themselves to a very limited area, seemingly determined, no matter how hot matters might become, never to go outside of a certain narrow circle. All the while they sang, both of them, every few seconds. Often they sang on the wing, one in pursuit of the other, always within a few feet of the ground, all their flights being extremely short, of course, since neither of them would be driven beyond the prescribed limits. To leave the ring would perhaps have been to acknowledge defeat. Again and again they faced each other like game cocks, and less often they rose into the air, beak to beak. Only twice did I see them actually come to blows and roll over and over in the grass. The rest of the contest was of a pretty Quakerish, non-combative complexion; a trial of endurance, it seemed, rather than of brute force. Once (and this had a ludicrous look) the birds stood and stared at each other, their bills being only a few inches apart, and one of them sang, and repeated the strain. "Hear that," he seemed to say, "and hear that!"

For half an hour, more or less, I kept quiet and watched the show, asking myself all the while what it meant. Once the birds perched, one on a fence post, one in a low sapling—the only one near—and sang and sang by turns. Now and then they separated for a fraction of a minute, but at once resumed activities, chasing each other through the grass or through the air just above it, and anon coming again to close quarters. When they were not singing they emitted almost continually little crackling, bill-snapping, spiteful-sounding noises, which put me in mind of a canary cracking seeds.

What was all this about? Were the birds rivals in love? Possibly. But, if so, where was the fair loved one? For a time, it is true, a third bird came into the ring near them; but neither contestant paid the slightest attention to her (or to him), and presently she (or he) went away.

At first—for perhaps five minutes—I took the birds for male and female. The male was courting, I thought (for the wooing of birds, in some cases at least, looks very much like a fight), and when, after a hot chase and a moment of silence, he flew across the ring and the second one at once followed, I was careless enough to laugh. "Ha, ha!" said I. "She says no, but when her suitor takes her at her word, she comes to her senses in a hurry." It was a hasty judgment, and an unworthy piece of cynicism; for just then I discovered that both birds were singing, one as freely and as well as the other, and therefore were almost certainly both males.

They were not lover and lass, it was plain, nor was there any indication that they were rival suitors. What then was the meaning of all this curious and wonderfully resolute belligerency? As to that, I do not mind admitting that I had a theory, but before stating it I should like to describe a similar scene, witnessed some years ago, between two birds of the warbler family. That also was in early April—April 4, 1890. I quote from my diary:

"Last evening was very mild, with a bright moon, and in writing to —— I said that the night ought to bring us some birds —'pine warblers, perhaps.' This morning, in Dr. Emery's pines, I found them; two birds, both singing. They were behaving in a strange and puzzling manner; chasing each other about among the trees, often not alighting for many minutes together, and never going out of the small wood, a pitch-pine grove on a rounded hilltop. Then one would perch and sing once—possibly twice—and immediately the other would do the same in another tree at some distance. They behaved like male and female. The pursuit was gentle, never with any sign of anger or any attempt to pounce one upon the other.

"I went farther, and came back in half an hour or more; and they were still engaged in precisely the same manner. I tried now to determine their sex by the state of their plumage, but they gave me no good opportunity till at last they all at once got their bills together and came slowly to the ground, say twenty feet from me, head to head. They remained on the ground for perhaps half a minute, but were in bushes and grass and in such a jumble that I got no really good idea of their plumages, except that I thought then, as I had done previously, that one bird was somewhat brighter than the other. As well as I could make out, one of them had grasped the other's bill in its own. They tumbled about for a little and then separated, and at once resumed their chase of each other among the trees. They never once uttered a note, either in flying or during the time they were struggling on the ground, except as they perched and sang.

"Now, then, does the female pine warbler sing? Or were the birds both males contending for the possession of this piece of woods—trying to wear each other out? One sang as well as the other, for aught that I could see. They were still chasing each other when I came away, and had been doing so for at least an hour. This pitch-pine grove is a favorite resort of pine warblers. One was singing there last autumn as late as Oct. 12."

Two days later I find another entry in my journal: "Only one pine warbler in the Emery pines as far as I could discover."

With this observation I place another made, I think, still longer ago. Then two male chestnut-sided warblers were watched for a long time chasing each other round and round a patch of shrubbery—huckleberry bushes and the like—in a pasture. As I remember the scene, it was exactly like the one just described, lacking only the dramatic bill-to-bill episode. In that case the sex of the birds was practically unmistakable, and I had little or no question that the contestants were, as I have intimated above, trying to wear out each other's patience. Both had pitched upon the same desirable summer quarters, and neither would give up the place till he had seen whether the other wanted it still more than himself. They had no way of settling the controversy by lot or by arbitration, we may suppose, and were holding a primitive kind of auction. Each song was a bid, and the site was to be his who should bid longest.

This, then, is my theory or hypothesis (or guess, if the reader so pleases—it is all one) as to the meaning of my vesper sparrows' conduct. Hayfields and huckleberry pastures are broad, but the birds have never too much room. A good place is a good place, and, like other good things, within reason it is worth fighting for.

Boston Transcript

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24, 1901

Boston Herald, March 9, 1901.

Wolves roaming at large within the city limits would not be pleasant individuals to meet in our parks. A Boston man, however, did meet a wolf in Franklin Park yesterday. He is Joseph McNulty, a laborer, employed in the park.

As he was driving near the spot known as "the quarry," near Schoolmaster hill, he noticed what he thought was a large dog foraging about the "quarry." Seeing that the beast had no collar, he stopped his horse and attempted to catch him. The wolf turned on hearing the man's footsteps, and when McNulty discovered his mistake the animal had made off into the stretch of woodland known as the "wilderness."

McNulty then informed Lieut. W. A. Dennis of the park police that a wolf was at large in the park. The lieutenant detailed Patrolman George S. Richardson, who has the reputation of being a crack shot, to go on a hunt for the beast. Richardson armed himself with a rifle and went in search of the wolf, which he discovered within a half an hour, roaming among the bushes and trees in the "wilderness." Richardson brought down the wolf with the first shot, but did not kill him. The policeman then approached nearer and ended the animal's life with two revolver shots in the head.

The wolf was of the common gray species, weighing about 35 pounds. His pelt was badly injured by the shots. The carcass was taken to the station at the "Overlook" and was hung from the limb of a tree in a secluded spot where dogs cannot do it injury.

About a year ago Patrolman Richardson shot another gray wolf in the same locality. At that time it was said that two wolves had escaped from a vessel lying at one of the city wharfs, and that the second wolf would be sure to show up. Nothing, however, was thought of the possibility of such a thing happening until yesterday. Where the wolf has concealed itself all of the intervening time no one knows, and not one of the thousands of people who visit the park in a season has reported the presence of the animal.

The pelt of the wolf shot one year ago was cured and made into a fine rug and was then presented to Capt. Brown of station 13, and now ornaments a room at his residence on Alveston street, Jamaica Plain.
